

Date and Time

Saturday March 16, 2019
Time: 09:00-17:00h

Venue

Institute of Physiology
Lecture Hall F1.08
Pettenkoferstr. 14
Munich

Registration Information

Early registration until 28 Feb 2019

General audience: €40
Student: €15

Regular registration from 01 Mar 2019

General audience: €50
Student: €20

Deadline for Registration

Sunday 10 March 2019.

www.cih.lmu.de

Language

English

Contact Information

Email: symposium.cih@lrz.uni-muenchen.de

6 CME Credits
Applied for at the Bavarian
Medical Association

Occupational Safety & Health Symposium 2019

Protecting Workers' Health

Global challenges and opportunities in work-related respiratory diseases

Symposium Agenda

Opening remarks

Prof. Dr. Michael Hoelscher, Germany

Keynote lecture: Occupational Diseases in the 21st century

Dr. Elizabet Paunovic, Serbia

Prevention and control of work-related respiratory diseases, considerations

Prof. Dr. Frank van Dijk, The Netherlands

The prevention of tuberculosis among health workers is our collective responsibility

Dr. Sophia Kisting, South Africa

Occupational health and safety in mining to prevent respiratory diseases

Dr. Erik Jors, Denmark

Work-related asthma: evidence from high-income countries

Dr. Tobias Weinmann, Germany

Return to work and reintegration for workers with work-related respiratory diseases (Artificial intelligence)

Dr. Hector Upegui, Colombia

The role of imaging in the diagnosis of work-related respiratory diseases

Prof. Dr. Kurt Hering, Germany is supported by

with financial support from

The Symposium is sponsored with the maximum amount of 10.000 € by the DAAD